Starting in his infancy, a series of striking females change Brown's life dramatically - for better or worse. When his first marriage ends with his wife's death, Brown finds himself alone, thrown into a crisis of meaning.

In 2000, Brown joins a group of young intellectuals dispersed across the globe. When a teenage member of the group - an 18-year-old ballerina in Boston - writes him a letter, the two quickly become infatuated. It's a relationship that will alter Brown's life forever.
