Twenty-six year old Rashida Green is a successful, in-demand private nurse living the good life in New York City when she's called to care for the grandson of a former client.

His name is Drew Chastain, the grandson of an oil tycoon and heir to billions, and he's as stubborn as they come. An injured rodeo cowboy with a penchant for living life one dangerous second at a time, he's not too happy about having to hang up his boots and spend weeks recovering with the bossy nurse his grandfather hand-picked. Although Drew was born with a silver spoon in his mouth, life hasn't always been kind to him. And he doesn't appreciate Rashida prying into his past.

But as much as they butt heads, they'll soon discover exactly why their paths collided and that everything happens for a reason.
