Adventures in Veterinary Medicine: What Working in Veterinary Hospitals Taught Me About Life, Love and Myself Ingrid King

Adventures in Veterinary Medicine offers a unique look at what really goes on in a veterinary hospital through the eyes of a former practice manager. The book provides insight into what makes veterinary medicine such a rewarding profession through a series of heartwarming stories.

"As a 'veteran veterinarian' with more than 30 years in practice, I found myself nodding in recognition throughout Ingrid King's heartwarming book. Take a look behind the scenes at my beloved profession, and the people and pets who make veterinary medicine a rewarding adventure. You won't regret it, I promise." - Dr. Marty Becker, "America's Veterinarian" and veterinary contributor to The Dr. Oz Show

"Ingrid King offers a unique glimpse beyond the waiting-room door into the inner workings of a veterinary hospital. This collection of essays-each spotlighting a special animal friend from her past-shares smiles and poignant lessons learned from her years working in the profession. From the emergency vet care "dance" to respectfully performed "poop-duty," this purr-fectly charming book will make you appreciate your pets' clinic caretakers even more. Highly recommended!" - Amy Shojai, award winning author of 26 pet care and behavior books
